

If you're like many healthcare practitioners, you're convinced that electronic health records (EHR) are here to stay. They dramatically improve office efficiency, patient care, patient education and overall disease management. But what are the costs, both in terms of expense and overall savings? What factors do you need to consider in estimating the net benefit to your practice or overall healthcare operation?

Uncover the facts – and figures – in this webcast, presented by an expert from the Electronic Health Record Vendors Association (EHRVA). Learn:

- Electronic Medical Records' "Value Equation"
- Best Practices in Combining People/Process and Technology
- EHR Value Proposition to Your Community
- Technology-Related Revenue Opportunities
  - Pay for Performance
  - Consumerism
  - Virtual Visits
  - Disease Management
  - Clinical Trials

November 9, 2006

12 – 1 p.m. ET

Registration deadline:

November 6, 2006

Presented By:

Charlene Underwood, Chairwoman, Healthcare Information Management and Systems Society (HIMSS), Electronic Health Record Vendors Association, Director of Government and Industry Affairs, Siemens Medical Solutions

Nick Spanakis, Vice President, National City

Register today at

NationalCity.com/Seminars

This seminar is approved for one CTP and CCM recertification credit by the Association for Financial Professionals.

National City